

International Plant Protection Convention

Call for phytosanitary treatments

2017 IPPC Regional Workshop
Date, City, Country

Background

- ✓ IPPC phytosanitary treatments are critically important to protect plants and plant products while greatly facilitating safe trade
- ✓ Currently there are 31 internationally adopted phytosanitary treatments (Annexes to ISPM 28) – available at the IPPC website

Additional phytosanitary treatments needed to enhance the “treatment tool box” for contracting parties to use to facilitate trade

- ✓ 2015 November SC decided to open a call in 2017

Call for phytosanitary treatments

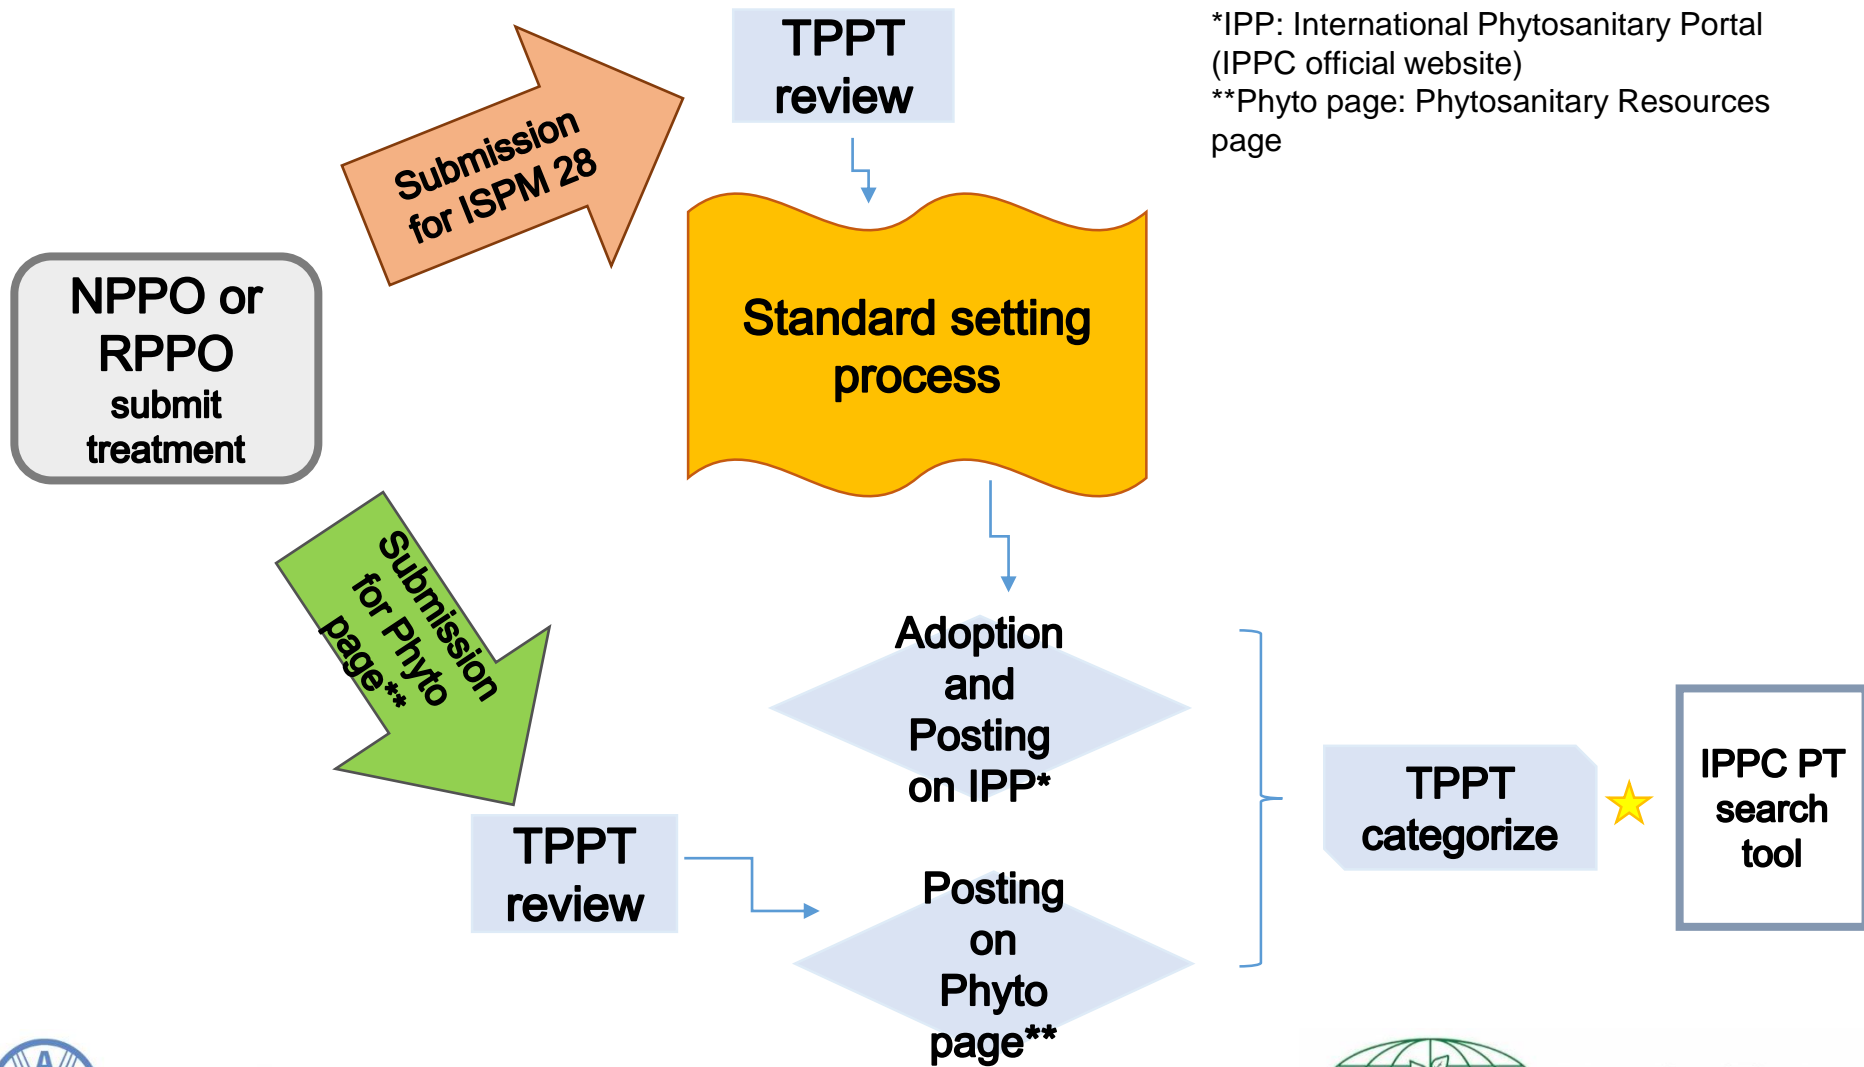

The International Plant Protection Convention (IPPC) Secretariat is soliciting submissions for:

- 1. Phytosanitary treatments to be adopted as international standards, as annexes to ISPM 28
(Phytosanitary treatments for regulated pests)
- 2. Phytosanitary treatments used in international trade, to be posted on the Phytosanitary Resources page
(<http://www.phytosanitary.info/>)

Call for phytosanitary treatments (con't)

Submission for ISPM 28

- Submissions from Contracting Parties or Regional Plant Protection Organizations (RPPOs) – from their respective IPPC Official Contact Point.
- The Technical Panel on Phytosanitary Treatments (TPPT) will evaluate the submissions and recommend the treatments to the Standards Committee (SC).

Submissions for Phytosanitary Resources page - contributed resources

- Submissions accepted not only from IPPC Official Contact point
- The TPPT will review the submissions and recommend the treatments to the Implementation and Capacity Development Committee (IC).

How can you contribute?

- The call is open!

If you think that your phytosanitary treatments used in international trade could be available for everyone, please submit them to the IPPC Secretariat.

- Deadline: 30 January 2018 (to be included in the 2018 TPPT meeting) but call is open until resources are available
- Submissions should contain:
 1. Completed submission forms (available on IPP)
 2. Supporting references (research data, publications) or the publication containing the treatment (manual, journal article, legislative document)
